

Water Intake Calculator

Code Explanation

Table of Contents

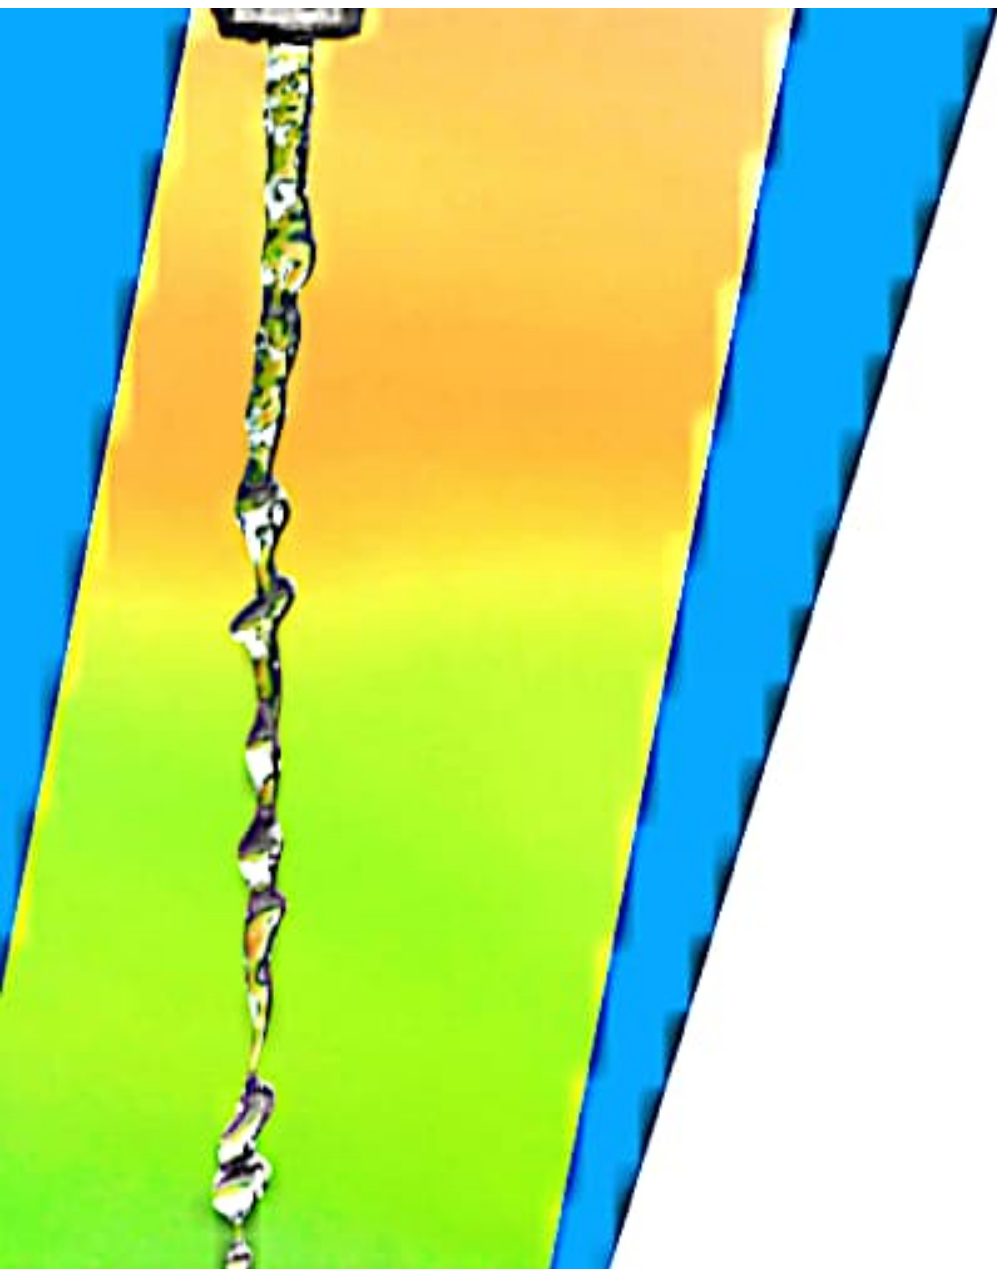

Calculator Description

Objectives

Calculator Description

The Water Intake Calculator is a device used to measure the volume of water needed for a person based on their weight and height.

02

objective

The Water Intake Calculator was created to address the need for personalized water intake recommendations, considering the varying requirements of individuals.

Calculation Methodology

- > Step 1: Retrieve the user's weight and height
- > Step 2: Perform the necessary validation
- > Step 3: Calculate the water intake
- > Step 4: Display the results